Future Perfect Tense

When do we use the Future Perfect ?

The future perfect is referred to an action which will be completed at a given time in the future.

To indicate “future time” in the sentence, we can use the word ‘by’.

Structure of the Future Perfect Tense

will have + past participle

Example 01

“will have ” + [Past Participle]

John will have gone by then.

I will have eaten before 9 o'clock.

At this time,
the future
activity will be completed

past present

future

Example 02

She will have finished her work by 11 o'clock

The work is going to complete in future.
Expected completion of time is 11 a.m.

Example 03

By next August,
I will have bought a new house.

Now

I

Before August

Example 04

By this time next year, I will have visited Japan.

Now

Before this time next year
