

Unit 4 – Programming

Various developed applications are used to solve problems in mobile and smart devices. Identify the mobile and smart devices used in modern society and the various applications used them in the following diagram.

Write down the uses of the above mobile and smart devices and the various applications used in them. In addition to those applications, find and list more.