Adverbs

Adverbs

Adverbs are descriptors: they can modify several different parts of speech, including themselves. Virtually every French word that ends in -ment is an adverb, equivalent to -ly in English. But there are also many adverbs that don't end in -ment.

Characteristics of French Adverbs

1. May modify verbs adjectives and prepositions or other adverbs
  2. Are invariable
  3. Are categorized according to type of modification
  4. Follow specific placement rules
- The general rule of making adverb is by adding suffix – ment to the adjectives...

L' adverb = l'adjectif masculin l'adjectif feminin + MENT
