Lesson Note

Relative Pronoun

A Relative Pronoun is used to connect a clause or phrase to a noun or pronoun. We use them every day.

- With the most common relative pronouns being: who , whom , which and that.
- We use 'who, whom and whose' for people.
- We use 'which' for animals and things.
- We use 'that' for people, animal or things.
- We use 'where' to refer to places.
- The relative pronoun 'when' is used to refer to the time.

- Eg:
1. The girl who joined our class last week, is very clever.
 2. The girl whom I met at the party is a singer.
 3. I have a friend whose father is a magician.
 4. Noodles is a food which we eat every day.
 5. Penguin is a bird that cannot fly.
 6. This is the place where my friend met with an accident.
 7. It was too late when I realized my mistake.
