My Flat Cat

The title / topic

I have a cat.
 My cat is flat.
 He sleeps beneath the bathroom mat.

He slides around
 upon the ground without the slightest striding sound.

He only eats
 the flattest meats
 and thin and wispy kitty treats.

He once was fat
 but now my cat
 is totally,
 completely flat.

He got so slim,
 so flat and trim,
 the day my Great Dane
 sat on him.

The Moon

The moon has a face like the clock in the hall;
She shines on thieves on the garden wall,
On streets and fields and harbour quays,
And birdies asleep in the forks of the trees.

The squalling cat and the squeaking mouse,
The howling dog by the door of the house,
The bat that lies in bed at noon,
All love to be out by the light of the moon.

But all of the things that belong to the day
Cuddle to sleep to be out of her way;
And flowers and children close their eyes
Till up in the morning the sun shall arise.

MICE

I think mice are rather nice;
Their tails are long, their faces small;
They haven't any chins at all.
Their ears are pink, their teeth are white,
They run about the house at night;
They nibble things they shouldn't touch,
and, no one seems to like them much,
but, I think mice are rather nice.
