

Grade 09 Week 04

November Let's Overcome Social Loss

Although new technology is useful for everyday human activities, it can also have adverse effects. Therefore, new technology should be used intelligently. At the same time, the lack of consensus in today's society has created conflicts. Therefore, it is important to build good interpersonal relationships and be friendly with each person.

1. Write down four possible side effects of new technology.
2. Write down five opportunities to make good use of new technology.
3. What is a conflict?
4. Who are the potential parties to the conflict?
5. Write down four possible adverse effects of conflict.
6. What can be done to prevent conflict?
7. What technical equipment do children need for the learning process?
8. Write a short note on how new technology will help you learn.